Story 1 – 2:30 – 3:00 p.m.

Julia and Sam had just made their way onto the Stampede Grounds when they saw the big roller coaster. Julia and Sam looked at each other to see whether they should go on or not, when they came upon a real live buffalo.

It was pink with green polka dots. They wondered whether they should ride the coaster or the buffalo. They discovered that the buffalo was a mascot for the Calgary Stampede.

Whereupon they went off to eat a buffalo burger.

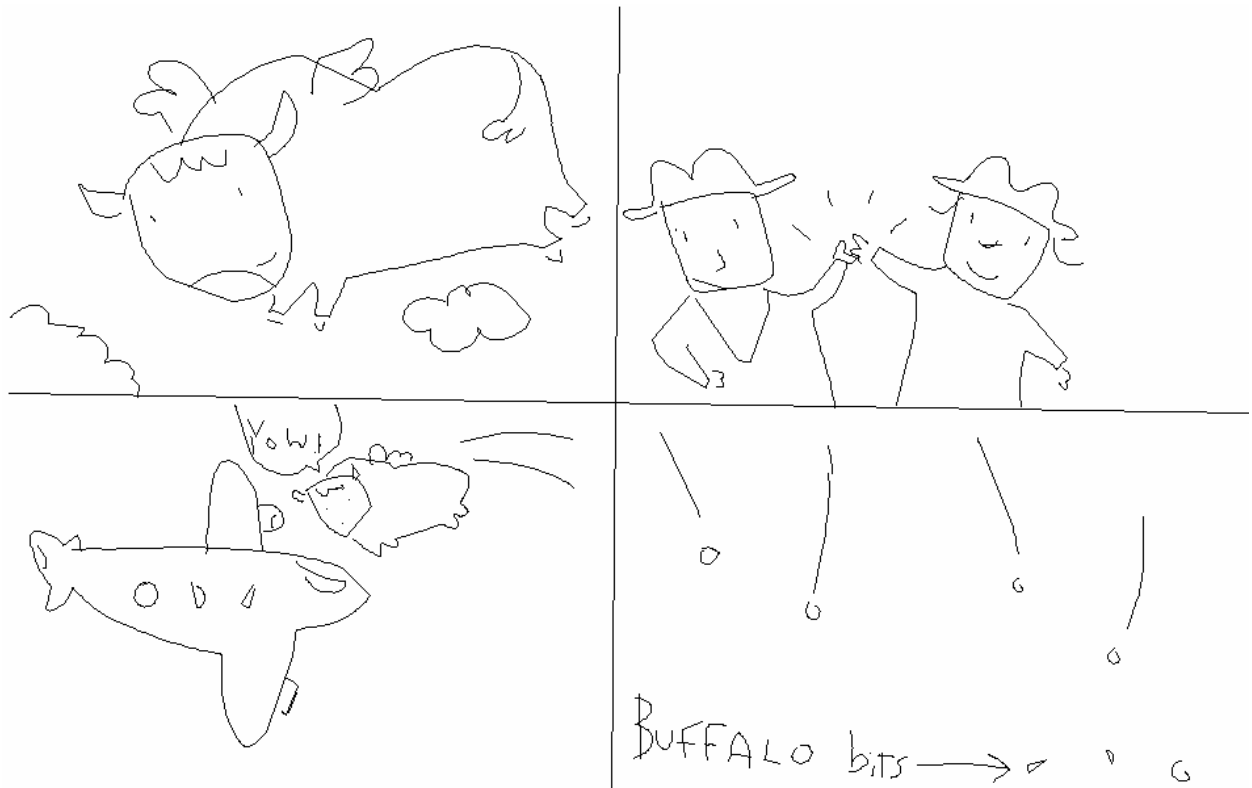

They started walking around the grounds to see what other rides were there. They saw the Mighty Drop of Fear, but they were too scared to go on it because it was way too tall and they didn't think it was safe.

They saw the mini donuts which were really good, and they bought a bunch for the buffalo mascot. They talked the buffalo into going onto the Drop of Fear.

As it was approaching the top, he began to panic and scream like a little girl, but he grew magical wings from the mini donuts and he flew up into the magical colony of mascots in the sky.

Sam and Julia were clapping because they had set the buffalo free. Sadly, he flew into a jet turbine, but the plane stayed airborne because of the magical powers of the mini donuts.

As a result of this, all the buffalo meat floated down to the grounds and everyone had buffalo wings for supper.
